

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Thursday, July 28.

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh again will be in the radio picture Thursday night to stir the hearts of fans as he did after his famous trans-Atlantic flight about two months ago. "Lindy" will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given him by the people of Syracuse, the proceedings of which will be broadcast by WSTR. Over 1,000 prominent people are expected to attend and Lindbergh is scheduled for a thirty-minute talk, which should be drawing a crowd enough for the audience of the air. Other features of this night are "Old Bill and His Workshop," a vocal and instrumental feature to WEAF and the Red Network, a concert by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra from Lewisohn Stadium through WJZ and the Blue Network, a program by the MacDowell Ladies Trio through WTIC, an entertainment by the Silver Bell Quartet through WJZ, and other features through the microphones of WMOG, WGL, WNYC, WYVA, WOR, KTHS and KGO.

Wave lengths in meters on left of station title, kilocycles on the right. Times are Eastern Daylight Saving and Eastern Standard. Black type indicates best features.

Wife Tired of Being
"Married to a Voice"

Radio fans who have missed the strong, silvery voice of Gene Delmar, announcer for station WABC, these past few weeks, had an explanation with the publication of a recent number of McClure's Magazine.

It seems that Mrs. Gene Delmar, petite brunette of twenty-four, got very tired of sitting at night evenings and listening while Mr. Delmar did all of the talking-out of a dial-faced box. Mrs. Delmar couldn't answer him, couldn't look at him, couldn't muss his sleek hair playfully, or anything. She even had to share his voice with a million or so other women.

And every twenty-four-year-old wife knows that's no kind of a husband to have.

So Mrs. Delmar sat down and wrote herself a magazine article, telling just what it felt like to be married to a voice. She said:

"Our little boy thinks that Gene is just a hopeless eccentric who likes to spend his time curled up in a little mahogany box. When Gene speaks the baby says, 'Daddy, daddy, come out.'"

"People who come to see us never wait long enough for Gene to get home. They spend the evening looking at me and listening to him-then they go home and say they've been visiting the Delmars."

"No woman who hasn't experienced it can know the utterly devastating feeling of being ill and alone while she listens to her husband chirrup blithely about the Lithuanian contralto's next selection."

"They say radio is here to stay. In that case, I'm tired of being alone all the time, of being married to a voice, and of promising the baby that some day he'll actually see his daddy at dinner."

"The only reason announcers' wives hang on to this: He can't feel you, he can't say he's working overtime. If he's working you hear him."

Having so unburdened herself, Mrs. Delmar sold the manuscript to McClure's. But somewhere, several weeks ago, Gene Delmar got a kick at the manuscript.

Mr. Delmar and his silver voice have retired from the radio-announcing business permanently. He's writing about stories now.

Scriptural notes are prepared to shape babies' faces to make them beautiful and look less like father.

Said, once a woman born, has become a mere elaboration.

One of the latest things about here is that it often fails to come.

Modern woman's fondness which is to be weighed and found wanting.

Supervises State Fair

Commissioner Berns A. Pyke of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets under whom the New York State Fair is to be conducted this year at Syracuse, August 29 to September 2.

BATTLE OF HERKIMER
SEEN IN FIREWORKS

Sesquicentennial Scenes Will Be Reproduced in Night Show at New York State Fair.

The sesquicentennial celebrations which are taking place in various parts of New York State this year will be forerunners of the Night Show program to be presented in a grand display of fireworks each night during the New York State Fair at Syracuse, August 29 to September 3. From Monday to Friday there will be a night show which many who cannot attend during the day will find interesting and thrilling.

The program includes the following features: Monday, The Battle of Herkimer in beautiful lance work pieces and movable mechanical features to make the battle as realistic as possible; Tuesday, a novel portrayal of "Fighting the Flames," including a pyrotechnic display of houses on fire, the response of the fire department and a realistic display of firefighting in fireworks; Wednesday, repetition of The Battle of Herkimer; Thursday, repetition of "Fighting the Flames," Governor's picture and other features; Friday, a special display of "Automobile Racing." These features each night will follow a new display of fireworks and salutes such as has seldom been seen in this country.

A complete program of fifteen high class vaudeville and circus acts will also be seen each night. The entire field and stages in front of the grand stand will be flooded with electric light and an amplifier will be provided for the first time so it will be possible for the audience to hear as well as see all that takes place. The Night Show program will be one of the best yet given.

Experienced Smokers simply can't believe it—

Says one of the latest converts:—
"First time I bought a Peter Schuyler Victor, I thought the cigar man had short-changed himself. And 'twas he who recommended Victor!"

"Never as long as I live, shall I forget that first puff from Victor. Um-ummm! That unmistakable ALL-Havana flavor. That friendly mellowness. I felt like sitting down and writing a poem. I felt like a soldier home from the war."

"Says I to myself: 'This simply can't be a 10-Cent cigar. That fellow at the store was cheating himself.'"

"But, next day, I found I could get Peter Schuyler Victor all over town for 10 cents."

WHAT HIGH COMPRESSION MEANS TO YOU

The principle of high compression is readily understood. The tighter you pack the powder charge in a muzzle loading gun, the greater the force given the bullet. Similarly, the tighter gasoline vapor and air are packed or compressed in the combustion chamber (the space between the head of the cylinder and the top of the piston) before ignition, the greater the power derived from the explosion.

Increasing compression therefore simply means decreasing the size of the combustion space, which may be accomplished mechanically or through the formation of carbon.

In terms of you and your car, higher compression means a more powerful and flexible car. In short, a performance impossible with lower compression and the use of ordinary gasoline.

Scenario Writer Dies in Theatre

Miss Mathis, Discoverer of Rudolph Valentino, Dies of Heart Attack, While Seated at a Performance of "The Squall."

New York, July 27 (AP).—June Mathis, noted scenario writer and the highest paid woman executive in motion pictures, is dead, the victim of a heart attack while attending a performance in a Broadway theatre. While seated beside her mother, Mrs. Emily Hawks, at a performance of "The Squall" at the Forty-eighth Street Theatre last night, Miss Mathis suddenly threw her arms about her mother's neck and screamed:

"Oh, mother, I'm dying, I'm dying."

Scores of persons arose from their seats, the players paused uncertainly in their lines and ushers hurried to Miss Mathis and carried her to the alleyway alongside the theatre. A few moments later two physicians from the audience announced she was dead.

Mrs. Hawks, who was standing longingly weeping, screamed and fell to her knees beside her daughter, pleading with her to speak. She refused to believe her daughter was dead and rubbed her wrists in hope of imparting life until the medical examiner arrived and the body was removed to a funeral parlor.

The mother was then taken to an apartment hotel, where she and her daughter had been living since their arrival from Los Angeles two months ago.

Miss Mathis, who was about 35 years old, was considered the most successful of women motion picture executives. Her greatest achievement probably was her discovery of Rudolph Valentino.

Partial Collapse Of Bridge Caisson

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 27 (AP).—The east caisson for the $5,000,000 mid-Hudson vehicular bridge which will span the Hudson river here, listed perilously eastward early this morning when pressure of the water against its sides caused a partial collapse. Few workmen were on the caisson and only one was endangered when he was thrown into the river but was rescued promptly.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 27, 1927.

KLAN RESPONSIBILITY.

Everywhere, South or North, when an outrage is committed by masked persons, the known leaders of the Ku Klux Klan disclaim responsibility, insisting that the deed was done by outsiders masquerading in the name of their order. Even where this is true, a certain responsibility remains because the Klan is the inspiration and ready vehicle of the outsiders. And it is so often proved untrue that such side-stepping is becoming increasingly difficult. According to the Birmingham News, the floggings in Alabama "are committed not only by hooded and robed men but by men who, in almost every case, according to well-considered statements of the Governor's law-enforcement officers, are members of the Ku Klux Klan." The Georgia "State dragon of the Ku Klux Klan" indignantly denied that his order was in any way concerned in the brutal flogging of Mrs. Ashley Bowers at Toccoa, Ga., but the testimony at the trial of W. G. Acree, one of the men accused, showed that at least four of the five were Klansmen and that Acree was cyclops of the local Klan at the time, as well as principal of the Stephens County high school, superintendent of a Sunday school and "moderator of 20 churches of his association."

The spirit of justice has been aroused and this distinguished citizen has been fined $100 and sentenced to serve one year on the chain-gang. The most amazing item of news in this connection is that Mrs. Bowers was flogged merely for "failing to attend church." Although this seems beyond belief, similar religious fanaticism (if it is not mere fear of the Klan) appears to exist in Alabama, where, according to the Birmingham News, "the pulpits, if not partly apologetic, is largely silent" about the floggings, two prominent religious publications, one Methodist and one Baptist, being named as failing to print "one word in protest."

DRUGGISTS AND ALCOHOL.

The druggists have joined the paint, oil and varnish handlers in protesting against "interference with their trade by means of regulations that cannot be enforced." The secretary of the National Association of Retail Druggists tells the prohibition administrators that he doesn't think a prohibition officer has any right to tell a druggist how much alcohol he needs in running his store. A druggist handles 7,000 other things besides alcohol, he argues, and cannot devote all his time to keeping books for prohibition agents.

Legal counsel for the druggists maintains that "if the American people can trust retail druggists with their health and lives in the compounding and dispensing of medicines generally, prohibition officers might trust them to dispense medicinal spirits."

It is a natural protest, from men who are mostly honorable and trustworthy, and who like many another equally smart, find present prohibition rules which apply to them burdensome. Any fair-minded citizen, or dry officer for that matter, can appreciate how they feel about it.

INTELLIGENCE AND TAXES.

Emporia, Kan., has always seemed a town to be envied, or at least, to be patterned after. Here is fresh proof of its felicitous condition, as given by William Allen White in his paper, the Emporia Gazette:

Emporia is broadening her municipal activities, doing more things that are required by a complex civilization and at the same time not increasing her taxes. The normal growth of this town is adding to the valuation of taxable property so that we can expand our city government every year without increasing the individual taxpayer's bill. It is important to expand city government. This need is imperative to do certain things required by a growing town. Only the fine work of an intelligent city commission has been able to keep our tax very low. Emporia's tax levy is on the whole rather lower than the levy in other Kansas towns of the size, and for our taxes we get much more than other towns get. We do more things well than should be done.

And why? An intelligent, capable and honest, intelligent officials. It sounds simple enough, but Emporia poria stands out as exceptional. Can it be that intelligence really is not widespread in the United States?

"Short sleeves we applaud," says the Philadelphia Record; "shorter sleeves we endure with resignation; but no sleeves at all, when met suddenly upon the public streets, still cause a slight striking feeling in our sense of propriety." Those ladies who dress themselves in clinging white, their dresses stopping at the shoulder and the knee, and then come upon us without warning, are going to surprise the bluish of embarrassment upon our face one of these warm days." The Record's scribe solemnly warns them that they may be mistaken for wandering somnambulists in their "nighties" and be gently but forcibly returned to their abandoned "couch of slumber."

Christopher Morley claims to have discovered that the inscription on the grave of Ben Jonson in Westminster Abbey, "O rare Ben Jonson," was a stone-cutter's error and was intended to be "Orare Ben Jonson." As the Latin could be translated "pray for," such an error does not seem improbable. The Manchester (England) Guardian takes Mr. Morley's view rather seriously, although loath to surrender one of the most famous epitaphs in English literary history.

There is an impression that Chicago elected Mayor Thompson, Republican, because he threatened to "bust King George in the nose," but according to ex-Mayor Dever, Democrat, he was defeated because he considered it his duty to try to enforce the prohibition law—which cost him "the large negro vote of the city and a goodly portion of the Irish-Democratic vote."

It was hardly to be expected so soon, but the news comes that already aeroplanes are being stolen, altered in appearance and sold in distant cities. "After all, perhaps a white elephant is the only thing a thief has never tried to run off with."

HEALTH AND THE PRESS.

Dr. J. C. Bloodgood of Johns Hopkins University, one of the world's greatest cancer specialists, pays a high compliment to the press, according to Editor and Publisher.

He says, "the public should be told all that the medical profession can tell them, and I am willing to compete with the quack for front page space any day. I turn to the press to fight against cancer and against all other diseases. Due to the spreading of sound advice concerning teeth, excessive use of tobacco and stimulants, 70 per cent of the possible cancer patients who come to us, arrive in time to save themselves from actual infection."

In the days before the newspapers were spreading health education less than three per cent came in time.

And in this fight against disease and poor health our physicians and dentists are now in the front ranks. It is not an unusual sight to see "health weeks" in many districts throughout the United States. Here physicians and dentists examine and treat free all who come. There are lectures, demonstrations, moving pictures, all pointing out the road to health, and warning of the pitfalls that may be encountered on the road.

The advisability of yearly physical examinations, examination by the dentist twice each year, the different kinds of foodstuffs and their value to the body, the prevention of typhoid, tuberculosis, scarlet fever, diphtheria, suggestions regarding bathing and exercise, all form a part of the program during Health Week.

One of our large insurance companies took over a city in Massachusetts some years ago, and ran it from a health standpoint for a whole year. The results were most satisfactory, and the lessons learned by that community will never be forgotten.

This experiment was given so much publicity that other places began similar work themselves without outside aid.

Dr. Bloodgood says rightly then "Let the press continue its work" of enlightening the public on that which means most to them, that is their health.

Health Weeks are likewise held in Canada, Great Britain, and other European countries.

The AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

LEGION CONVENTION TO BREAK RECORDS

With three times as many reservations already made as on any previous peace-time pilgrimage, the overseas journey of the American Legion will no doubt be the biggest event of the year in Europe, Howard P. Savage, national commander, said as final preparations were being made for the trip abroad. Among the world renowned guests announced for the week of magnificent entertainment during the Legionnaires' stay abroad September 19 to 23, are Marshal Ferdinand Foch, supreme commander of the allied armies and Gen. John J. Pershing, war-time commander of the A.E.F. Both Marshal Foch and General Pershing are honorary national commanders of the Legion.

A general holiday has been proclaimed in the French capital for September 18, the opening day of the convention. The parade, the most colorful in the history of the Legion, is scheduled for the afternoon of that day through five miles of downtown Paris. The great parade, international in aspect due to the various countries represented, is to form in Les Invalides, almost within the shadow of the tomb of Napoleon and the generals of the empire. It will cross the splendid Pont Alexander III and proceed down the grand boulevards. For the first time in history the French government will accord to a foreign nation the privilege of passing through one of the arches of the Arc d'Triomphe nearby where rests the grave of the Unknown French Soldier. The city of Paris will give a magnificent reception to the visiting Legionnaires at the Hotel de Ville. Gen. Henri Gouraud, military governor of Paris, who lost a leg and arm in the World War, will be a guest of honor. It is probable that the grandiose ceremony incident to the exhumation and burial in the Invalides of 16 generals of the empire, now resting in cemeteries scattered throughout France will take place during the Legion convention in order that the American veterans may take part. The Legion will join in impressive ceremonies at the grave of the Unknown French Soldier. It is probable that fitting exercises will be held in the Cirque de Paris where a caucus of 2,000 American soldiers was called for March 15, 1918, and formed the Legion.

The famed Garde Republicaine band with Pierre Dupont conductor, formed in the time of Napoleon, will join with two dozen other bands and drum corps from Legion departments in the United States in the celebration. Members of the medical profession in France are planning an intensive course taught in English for American physicians visiting the French capital with the Legion. Countless reunion and post dinners and social events will be staged during the Paris convention. The French golf clubs have formed Legionnaires to take part in the open championship to be held on the Saint Germain course, September 28 and 29.

Throughout France a number of ceremonies will be held. General Gouraud will take part with American generals in a service at Waverly farm. The great international Ombre de Bonaparte at Verdun will be dedicated with impressive ceremony in the presence of American veterans who fought there. A medal will be given the veterans who fought in the Verdun sector by the mayor of Verdun. The Legion has been invited to Paris, Italy, to dedicate a monument there to American soldiers.

The Legion while abroad will maintain headquarters in the Hotel d'Orleans. The business sessions of the convention will be held in the famous Palace Trocadero, government exhibition palace. The American Legion auxiliary will have headquarters in the Hotel Continental and the "Fifty and Eighty" play and honor society of the Legion, in the Palais d'Orsay.

STORE KEEPING

You have heard how a little mole, who had got even with a farmer who plowed off the heads of his children, had escaped from the farmer's angry hands to his friend Mr. Turtle, in the big lake.

Now, Mr. Turtle was very kind to Mr. Mole, for he knew how sad Mr. Mole felt losing his wife and all his children.

However, Mr. Turtle was none too rich, and Mr. Mole, had, of course, broken up his old home and was very, very poor.

So one day he said to Mr. Turtle, "Let's start a little store on the bank on the other side of the lake."

So to work they both set with great vim.

Mr. Turtle carried mud on his back of shell and Mr. Mole carried sticks to the spot which they picked out as the site for the store.

Then they began to build, Mr. Turtle had more ideas than Mr. Mole, but Mr. Mole was a better worker.

At the end of a few days the store was finished, and Mr. Turtle and Mr. Mole sent around notices printed on leaves which read,

"Fresh fish, fresh fruit, fresh pastry, at the new store, Turtle and Mole Bros."

All the animals around began to do their shopping at the new store.

The rabbits, molly cottontails, chipmunks, squirrels, toads and frogs all did their marketing there, and each day they bought more and more, for Mr. Turtle and Mr. Mole had such delicious things to sell.

They kept the store open all day, and at night they put all their provisions away, while Mr. Turtle went fishing and Mr. Mole got fresh berries and made most wonderful blackberry tarts, and he cooked the most delicious pastry.

The animals around would see the smoke curl out of the little stone chimney of the store and would think, "Ah, there are those delicious pastries being made by Mr. Mole!"

And the next day they would all go and buy them.

The store grew so in wealth that Mr. Turtle and Mr. Mole decided to add a tearoom, which they did.

It was most attractively fixed with leaves and blossoms, and for tables they had smooth rocks which they covered with leaves.

The afternoon planned for the opening came, and all the animals dressed up in their best.

One very drowsy old rabbit wore a high silk hat and carried a walking stick.

The animals enjoyed the tearoom so much that every afternoon it was the center of animal fashion and beauty.

But alas, one night, when all had been going so well, Mr. Mole smelled smoke and, looking out of the door, saw all the woods ablaze and almost reaching their store.

Mr. Mole shrieked to Mr. Turtle, "The woods are afire!" and they jumped into the lake and escaped with their lives.

I've often wondered, if they ever rebuilt their successful store again, but I fully expect they have ere this for they were good business partners and good friends.

Curious

A teacher conducting her pupils through an art museum stopped in front of Rodin's famous statue, "The Thinker." She asked them what they thought he was thinking about.

"Oh, I know," replied one little girl. "He's lost his clothes and he's wondering where he's going to get some more."

Johnny's Joke

Mother—Better use the molstener, dear. Postage stamps are said to have germs on them.

Johnny (after some swift tongue work)—Oh, well, ma, after they're got a licking what harm can they do?

Looking Backwards

"And you were little once like I am, grandpa?"

"Of course, my boy."

"Gee, you must have been a screamer with those glasses and whiskers?"

Whee-Wee!

Bright Boy

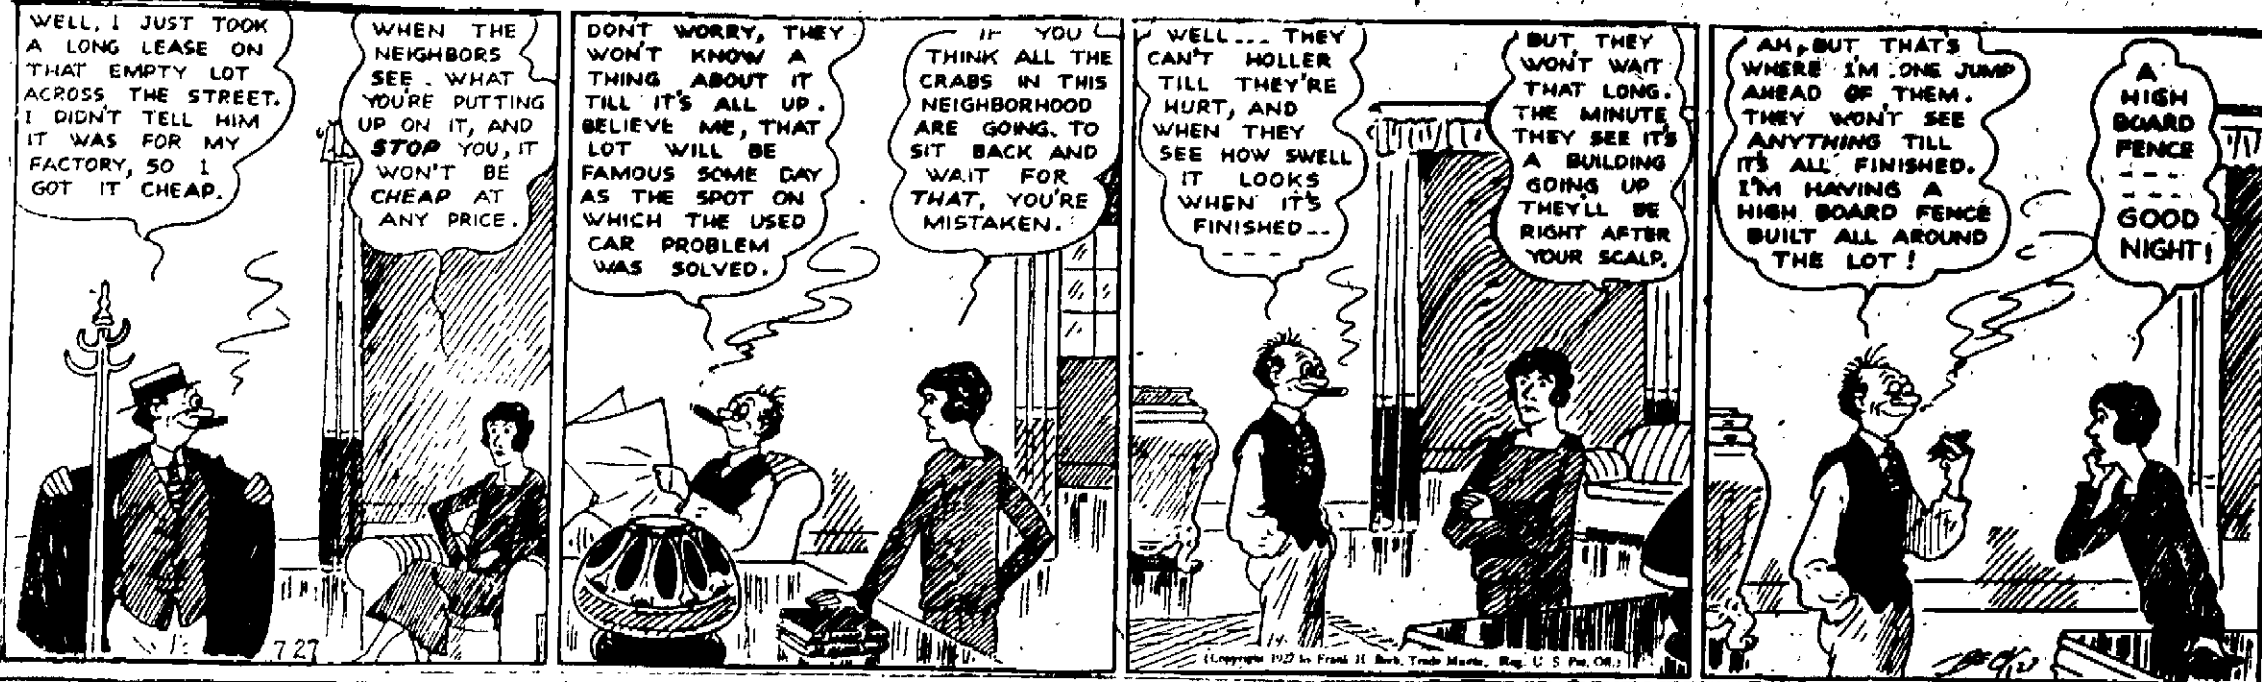

Teacher—Johnny, suppose you had ten apples and ten oranges and gave one of each to ten of your other little boys, what would you have?

Johnny—'d have any hard examined.

Luxemburg Has Much to Attract the Tourist

About all the average person knows about Luxemburg is that it is a small country somewhere between Belgium and Germany, but the little country possesses some rare scenery. The country is as old as most of its neighbors, and Rome thought it important enough to fortify it, centuries ago. From its ducal family have come queens of France and emperors of Germany. The city of Luxemburg is a rocky gem in a forest setting, and, according to Edwin Robert Petre, travel writer, from here one can look to Treves and Thionville, and not only into Germany but to Longwy and the north of France, Arlon, Brussels and the coasts of Belgium. The old fortress of Vauban has been modernized so that its gloom no longer shadows the city. When the visitor has seen its sights, such as the duke's palace, in Spanish Renaissance style, the Seventeenth century cathedral, its bridge and viaducts, the palace of the "Arbed," the Musée Péscaior and its wonderful parks, he has before him some of the best motor roads in Europe for a spin through the duchy to see its other cities and towns.—Detroit News.

Cleaning Solutions.
The speed of chemical solutions is increased by raising the temperature. Therefore, a hot solution solution is a better cleaner than a cold one. However, boiling the temperature of the solution just below the boiling point would be almost as effective as to keep the solution boiling, except for the possible ill given by the vigorous agitation caused by boiling.

Fuller Surveys Scene of Crime

Governor Fuller Makes Personal Survey of Scene of Murder for Which Sacco and Vanzetti Were Convicted.

Boston, July 27 (AP).—Governor Fuller had before him full information on the Sacco-Vanzetti case today as a result of a personal survey of the scene of crime.

Coming near the end of his long inquiry into the merits of the trial and conviction of the two internationally known radicals, the governor slipped quietly from a side door of the State House and, accompanied only by two state policemen, sped to South Braintree.

It was there in 1920 that the paymaster and guard of the Slater and Morrill shoe factory were shot down, a crime for which Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, then known only locally for their radical sympathies, were convicted and, after seven years of bitter litigation in the state courts, were sentenced to death in the electric chair.

The execution, originally set for July 10, has been stayed until August 10 to permit the governor and a special advisory committee named by him to review the case, which has attracted world-wide interest.

The governor personally measured the distance from the factory to that of another building nearby from which a government witness testified he had seen the two convicted men in the bandit automobile. Mr. Fuller made the measurement to satisfy himself whether from the distance it could have been possible for the witness to have identified the pair.

The marriage of Miss Tanguay and Booke, who is known on the vaudeville and concert stage as Allen Parado, was disclosed yesterday, although it took place last Friday at La Habra, Cal. The marriage license, which was unearthed by newspapermen, gave Miss Tanguay's age as 48 and that of her husband as 30.

Trouble was encountered in confirming the identity of the two. When the honeymoon bungalow was called by telephone a woman who admitted she was Miss Tanguay answered it, but when asked about the marriage cut off the conversation with a sharp bang on the receiver.

The "honeymoon" house finally capitulated to the reportorial attack however.

"Mr. and Mrs. Parado at home," was the greeting she gave interviewers last night. "I only wish everybody could have a boy as nice as mine. He's just a regular lump of gold, that's all."

"I left the concert stage to go into vaudeville," said Booke with his arm around his bride, "but it is all worth while now that I have Miss Tanguay."

	New York	Pennsylvania
Schools	44	31
Instructors	296	244
Courses offered	492	274
Credits issued	3,102	2,597
Total enrollment	3,775	2,959
Credit students	1,962	1,862
Cost	$14,719.75	$10,595.49

In 1925-26, a total of 368 standard training schools were held in the United States. With its 44 schools, New York had one-seventh of the total enrollment, one-seventh of the credits issued and one-sixth of the cost.

In recent years a great increase in cooperative training work has been noted in state and nation, due, according to the New York State Sunday School Association, to "splendid cooperation of the denominations and the state and city councils of religious education."

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

When serving lamb prepare the following sauce to serve with it:

Mint Sauce.—Wash a bunch of mint, shake the stems, chop the leaves very fine, pour over one cupful of boiling water and add two tablespoonfuls of vinegar or the juice of a large lemon. Let stand in a warm place until ready to serve.

Creamed Chicken.—Take equal parts of cooked chicken—the breast preferred—cut into dice and add an equal quantity of cooked sweetbreads, also diced. Peel and stem fresh mushrooms half the quantity of the chicken, or less. Prepare a rich white sauce and pour the whole into a buttered baking dish. Cover with buttered bread crumbs and bake until well heated through. Fry the mushrooms five minutes in butter before adding to the dish.

Stuffed Eggs.—Put six eggs into six pints of rapidly boiling water, cover quickly and set back where the dish will keep warm and be undisturbed. Let stand one-half hour, then chill and remove the shells. Cut the eggs into halves lengthwise. Remove the yolks, add salt, pepper, chopped olives, thick mayonnaise. Refill the whites, shake over a bit of paprika and serve.

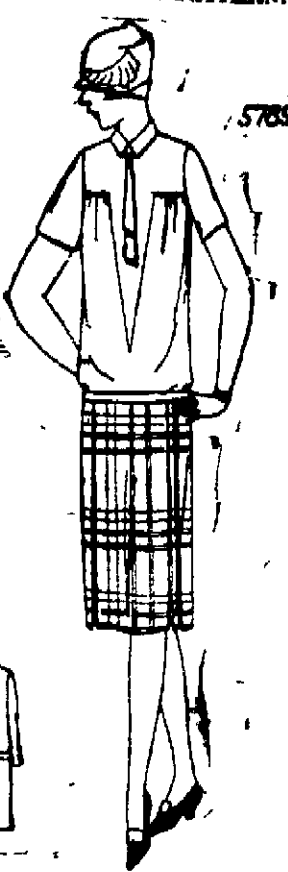

Best the yolks of three eggs and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of mace or nutmeg until light and thick. Add one-half cupful of sugar, cook over hot water until thick. Cut and fold in the whites of the eggs well beaten, then let stand to cook the egg. When the mixture is chilled, add one-fourth cupful of lemon juice and one cupful of cream beaten stiff. Serve very cold or pack in ice and half freeze.

Justice Honey Cake.—Sift together one and one-half cupfuls of flour, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of cloves and one-fourth teaspoonful of cinnamon. Mix two egg yolks with two-thirds of a cupful of honey and then add gradually the flour mixture. Roll thin, moisten the surface with egg white and mark into small squares. Bake in a moderate oven.

"Is your mamma there?"
"No."
"Is your sister there?"
"No. There's no one here but grandma and me and the cat. Grandma can't hear and the cat can't talk."

Milady's Garb for Summer Vacation

Sports Note Is Often Seen in Clothes as Well as Accessories.

Now that the season for traveling to the summer home or vacation land is upon us, the feminine shopper needs much wisdom in selecting cool, comfortable and smartly appropriate costumes in which to reach her destination. Often the journey is a matter of days, weeks or merely hours. This alters, of course, the list of things needed. Nowadays the traveler injects a sports note into most of her traveling clothes and so achieves an extremely chic appearance.

To begin with, the coat that must always be chosen for possible cool days or nights should be as tailored as possible. With the mode for straight lines and unusual treatments in seamings, bindings and tuckings, there is a wide selection given in smart traveling coats.

In general, woollens are best selected. They may be quite warm for the ocean voyage and extremely light weight for the trip across country.

Traveling coats should be chosen with the greatest care, so that they may be worn with any of the frocks and hats in the necessarily limited wardrobe. In silhouette it should not vary from the typical sports model, but unlimited variety in material and details make its choice an easy one. Plaids and checks are extremely wise selections. They are chic and also do not show the wear and tear of travel. Browns, beige, blues and grays are the wisest colors as they blend with almost all shades and do not show stain as easily as lighter or brighter tones.

Ensembles are particularly fortunate selections for traveling, or the sports coat that is worn over the two-piece sport frock.

A more formal note may be seen in the ensemble of black and white. These include a very lightweight woolen coat, black crepe frock, close-fitting black hat, white flower on the coat, Oxfords and hose of black with white washable gloves.

Coat That is Suitable for Cool Days or Nights.

Dresses show a decided sports tendency. They may be either in one or two pieces but are extremely simple in cut and detail. The cardigan sweater often makes its appearance in making the ensemble very chic in three pieces. Materials which do not crush are the best selected for traveling and the lightweight woollens, foulard silks, crepes and voiles are most often seen.

Accessories loom large on the traveling horizon. Inasmuch as the costumes themselves are often limited in coloring, the gay printed kerchief that is so important a part of the sports dress is often seen giving a note of color. Leather belts are smart details, too, and also lend a note of variety.

Gloves should be washable and smartly stitched. Shoes are of great importance. They should always be of the most comfortable last and always possess walking heels. The Oxford is both correct and chic. Stockings may be of either silk, hose or woolen.

Hats are invariably small for traveling. They should never be of a type that will not stay on the head comfortably.

Women Now Must Have Flowers to Match Frock

Perhaps no gown ornamentation has met with such approval as the flower corsage. Each frock, it seems, has its own individual shoulder flower, each street suit its boutonniere. Prediction of all are the huge flowing corsages worn at evening time on the shoulders of evening gowns. These are particularly attractive at summer time as the dainty clusters petals add a touch of color to the gown which is most effective.

As you perhaps know, these larger cluster flowers are usually quite sensitive in the shops. Also one rarely can find a flower of the exact shade of one's evening gown. For these reasons, dressmakers are making up flowers to match frocks at a nominal cost.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

The Sports Theme is Evident in Formal as Well as Informal Fashions.

New York.—One fashion authority has remarked that the secret of new style is always found in the fashionable life of women. Although this is sometimes a little hard to trace, one very obvious example is in the all-pervading sports theme.

By far the greater proportion of women are sports on-lookers rather than active sportswomen. Consequently, the sports dress of today no longer means a frock in which to play tennis or golf, but just a type for general all-day wear. Indeed, the clothes for active sports have become so differentiated that we now have definite tennis dresses, as well as bathing suits and riding habits. The general type of sports dress, then, is becoming more and more important in the wardrobes of smart women, and has ousted the erstwhile navy blue silk dress from its place as the type for all around wear. In fact, we hear from Paris that it is now proper to wear sports clothes in the morning, for shopping, instead of the more conventional street clothes of more severely tailored genre.

Consequently this dearly beloved sports theme is reflected in afternoon and evening clothes as well. We find two-piece dresses of georgette, lace-trimmed, with self belts and rhinestone buckles, which ape the jersey sports dress in every line. We even note evening gowns with vestee effects, or developed in two-piece styling. A fabric belt with a novelty buckle, a sure sports detail, is now the distinguishing mark of the smart georgette or chiffon dinner gown, we hear.

Women of Old Egypt

Had Many Privileges

When the Rosetta stone was found in 1799 and historians were enabled to give the world a picture of ancient Egyptian life many were astounded at the station held by women in the time of Rameses II. The Egyptian daughter of that time inherited from her parents an equal share with her brothers; as a wife she was the real and very active mistress of the house. In fact, many records indicate that the husband was little more than her guest, a writer in the Kansas City Times comments. She went and came as she liked, talked with whom she pleased without, anyone daring to question her actions, went among men with an uncovered face and adorned her face and form with all the liberty displayed by her kind today.

Her gown was a smart short frock cut decollete, her lips were tinted and her cheeks were powdered, her eyes were expertly emphasized and to her hair dresser she went once every ten or twelve days. If she was the wife in a family in average circumstances she rose at daybreak, prepared breakfast, sent the men off to the workshop or their business, sent three children more than eight years old to school and the younger ones to drive the goats or cattle to pasture and then occupied herself with household duties for the rest of the day. The women of the higher social scale went to have done little except to wash and attend to their persons so that they might appear to advantage in their strolls and visits abroad.

Millions keep free from perspiration odor [with this hygienic toilet soap. It purifies—makes perspiration odorless]

THERE'S nothing so quick to give offense as a hint of perspiration odor.

And unless we take precautions, we are all apt to offend—especially in summer when warmer weather and more activity tend to bring on perspiration so quickly.

But it's easy to keep safe always—with Lifebuoy! Millions bathe with it daily because it is so refreshing. It purifies pores—gives lasting freedom from embarrassing odor.

Local applications alone cannot give this assurance of continuous freshness. For the pores give off odor-causing moisture all over the body.

Keeps complexions healthy

A healthy skin is a clear, fresh, glowing skin. And just as Lifebuoy's antiseptic lather purifies body pores, so does it purify face pores, keeping complexions soft, smooth and healthy.

Better still, this same purifying lather helps protect against 27 germ diseases that hands may carry home. It removes germs, as well as dirt. Yet it's so gentle your skin will love it.

You'll like its clean scent

Lifebuoy is so different from other toilet and bath soaps that even its scent is different. Not a perfume, but a clean, pleasantly hygienic scent which tells you Lifebuoy gives greater protection.

Even before you've finished your first cake, you'll be enthusiastic over this cleanest of all soap scents, which quickly evaporates after rinsing.

Without its antiseptic, Lifebuoy would still be a wonderful toilet soap—but you wouldn't get the added protection.

Added safety—free

Lifebuoy assures greater health protection and complete freedom from body odor—yet costs no more, probably less, than the soap you now use. Lifebuoy is orange-red, a big generous cake. Get some today wherever soap is sold.

Two Runs in Tenth Give Back Ewing's Club 7 to 6 Victory Over Colonials—Locals Scored One Run in Extra Inning.

Scoring two runs in the extra inning at Stamford Monday, gave the Buck Ewing All-Star Club its third win of the season over the Colonials. The final score was 7 to 6. The Stars needed the two runs for the Culloton-Robins nine scored one run in the tenth. The series now stands, 3 to 1, in the Ewing Stars favor.

At the close of the regular season the score was deadlocked at five runs. In the tenth frame the colored stars collected two runs off four hits. The locals threatened to tie the score in their frame, but lacked the punch, with a runner on third. Kelly landed on third base after driving in Smith, who was walked. Shay cracked the ball to left field but it went high in the air and was caught, ending the game.

For the Stamford representatives Billy Schwab again led in the hitting attack, getting three safe blows out of four trips to the plate. Warrack starred for the winners, smacking out three hits, which included a circuit crack.

The Colonials were out-hit 12 to 10. The score:

WANNY TAYLOR, FORMER GIANT TWIRLER, DIES

Galesburg, Ill., July 27 (AP)—After picturesque diamond luminary of other days has passed in the death of Wanny B. (Dummy) Taylor, former twirler for the New York Giants, he was 58 years old.

Taylor broke into the major leagues after beginning a professional career at Mattoon, Ill., and joined the Giants. He was a member of McGraw's club when the Giants took over the team back in 1902.

For nine years, "Dummy" twirled for the New York Nationals, taking part in the pennant victories of 1904 and 1905.

Colonials Play All-Stars Tonight

The Kingston All-Stars will make an effort to comeback tonight at the Fair Grounds in their second contest with the Colonials for the purpose of deciding for Kingston's sportmen the question of which team has the more thunder in its warclubs. After a 10-0 shutout at the hands of the Culloton-Robins forces last Sunday the All-Stars have a tremendous task before them this evening.

It is not certain who Managers Culloton and Robins will send to the mound for the contest but it is a possibility that Randolph Winston, youthful Saugerties hurler, will take charge of tossing of the benders. Probably Freddie Stout of Eddie Baker will twirl for the All-Stars.

Roundout Tigers Win.

The newly organized Roundout Tigers defeated the Kelly All-Stars by a score of 4 to 2. The All-Stars battery was Abi and Rodden pitchers. Uhl catcher. Feeney pitched for the Tigers while Joe Conroy caught. The Tigers challenge the Robinhoods to a five-game series to be played at Block Park.

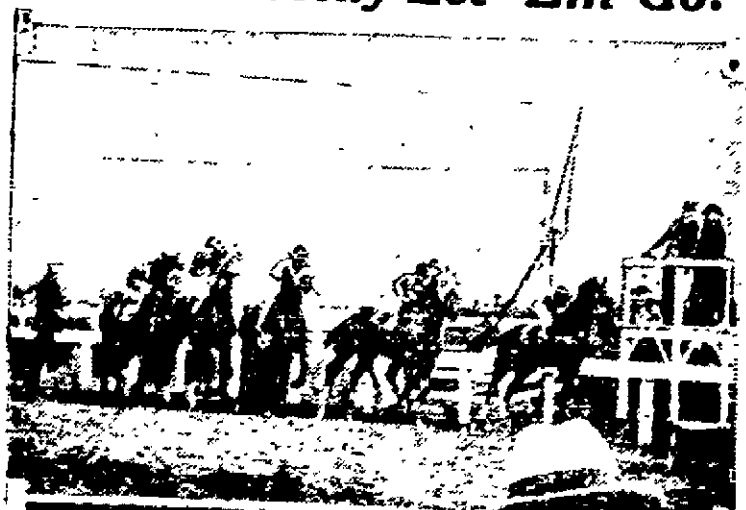

McVey to Box Saxon at Goshen

Goshen, N. Y., July 27.—Jack McVey, acknowledged colored welterweight champion of the universe, will meet Italian Johnny Saxon in the main go hero on Tuesday night, August 9, at the boxing show being arranged by Walter G. Brown for the Masonic Temple building fund.

Other welters and middleweights will complete the card. Bill McCarney who bosses Johnny Saxon, 148, a youngster who put on the mitts with Jack Dempsey at Atlantic City, and again in Saratoga the other day, says the bout will be the prettiest ever staged in this section. Maurice E. Cain, manager for McVey, merely smiles, knowing the poison this negro carries in either fist.

Tickets are out for the benefit show and a large clerical force is handling the distribution throughout the Hudson Valley, and the metropolis. Automobiles are being chartered for the trip from New York and other points.

Fifty Thousand Times Has Mars Cassidy Let 'Em Go!

By JACK J. KEENE.
 International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, (GEN)—It was in 1932 that Mars Cassidy started his first horse race, on the old Detroit course. They didn't have barriers in those days, the starter led to line them up and left them to "by hand," as it were. It wasn't such a bad start, and Cassidy thought he did pretty well. So good, in fact, that he decided to keep on at the business.

He's still at it. In the past thirty-four years Mars Cassidy has started more than 10,000 races. On tracks from Montreal to the Juana he has lined them up behind the barrier and given the signal that started them.

Starting is a hard job. Many a man, skilled in handling such men and horses, has failed miserably when up against the task of getting a dozen highly trained, nervous animals off by equally nervous jockeys. Cassidy has learned the hard way. He has seen them start, and with the slightest sign of criticism, a torrent of abuse is heaped upon the head of the starter.

A jockey may be "fudging" from the minute his horse is at the post. He may be using every trick of the trade to spell the start of a race, yet if he succeeds, it is the starter, and not the jock who gets blamed. And Cassidy was a successful starter in the days before the wonder barrier invented. His eye was the barrier. It was not until 1902 that one was helped by the use of the pole and wire to give the horses an even start.

Many a starter has been driven out of the game. Four starters, including Cassidy, have found the south of the equator. Cassidy has been the starter of the Detroit Tigers, the Boston Braves, the Chicago Cubs, and the New York Yankees. A few have been driven out of the game, and he has been

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

The St. Louis Browns, already defeated 13 times by the Yankees, have yet to win a ball game from their New York foe this season.

A crowd of 30,000 welcomed the American League champions on their return to New York yesterday and Miller Huggins' outfit replied with a broadside of hits that laid the Browns low in two games. The Huggins took the opener by a 15-1 count and then pounded out a 12-3 victory that gave additional weight to owner Phil Ball's statement from St. Louis that his team was overloaded with fading veterans and reconditioned players.

Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig started their home run derby whirling again. The Bambino belted one of Gaston's slants out of the lot in the first inning of the opener and found another in the sixth to his liking. Ruth's two wallops brought his season total to 33, but Gehrig connected for his 32nd in the windup contest.

Cleveland trimmed Boston by a 7-2 score. Both teams scored all their runs in the third inning. Ira Flagstead hit a homer with Meyer on first. Shaute held the Red Sox to six hits.

The Athletics and the Detroit Tigers split a doubleheader at Philadelphia. Detroit won the first game, 10-4, and the Mackenzies the second,

5-2. Fothergill and Manush hit for the circuit.

The Washington Senators returned to their home grounds and won a twin bill from Chicago, 5-1 and 6-5. The second game went 11 innings, although the Senators out-hit their rivals, 18-5. Joe Judge collected five hits in six attempts in the nightcap.

Pittsburgh went into a tie with the Chicago Cubs for first place in the National League when they defeated Brooklyn, 6-5.

Max Carey starred for the Robins with three hits, three runs and three stolen bases, but the rest of Uncle Wilbert's flock was somewhat dormant. Lee Meadows went the route on the mound for the Bucs.

Cincinnati made it four straight from the St. Louis Cardinals and increased their winning streak to six games by handing the world's champions the shortest end of a 11-10 count.

RUMORED BULL WILL

BUY MILWAUKEE TEAM

St. Louis, July 27 (AP)—The drastic measures proposed by President Phil Ball to wreck the present Brown club and rebuild it for next season have roused today to rumors that the club management contemplated the purchase of the Milwaukee American Association team.

Ball said he had despaired of playing successful baseball with the present Brown lineup, and that all but four of his players might be scrapped or traded.

The baseball dopests had it that Tigers split a doubleheader at Philadelphia. Detroit won the first game, 10-4, and the Mackenzies the second,

WELL, it's no secret. If Granger were packed in the usual pocket tin it would cost at least fifteen cents... but packed sensibly in heavy soft foil it costs but ten cents.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 27 (AP).—Responding to the excellent half yearly report of the country's two leading industrial corporations—General Motors and United States Steel—stock prices surged upward to new high ground today under heavy buying for both accounts. Early gains ran from one to nine points, with more than a score issues at new peak prices.

General Motors, which earned $14.35 a share in the first six months of the year, was in the forefront of the advance, attaining a new peak of 227 for the present strike. U. S. Steel, of which du Pont interests are reported to have been buying heavily in the last few months, also moved up to the highest price since the distribution of the stock dividend. du Pont reported new high above 271 a share.

Nash Motors climbed over four points to a new peak and Chrysler and Mack Trucks each climbed more than two points. Pierce Arrow preferred sank to a new low below $50 a share.

Weakness cropped out in a few issues. U. S. East Iron Pipe broke more than four points and then rallied slightly, and Houston, Colorado Fuel and Lignite and Myers B sank one to two points.

Despite the increasing demand for funds in connection with month-end settlements, credit conditions continued easy. Steel's splendid showing in the second quarter, particularly in June when mill production and demand were at low ebb, helped to inspire bullish confidence.

Rails moved up with the industrial, with the advance led by such issues as Atchafalaya, Louisville and Nashville and Union Pacific. Baldwin Locomotive moved up three points to a record high for all time.

Effect of Feed on Eggs

The chemical analysis of eggs is only very slightly affected by the ration of the hen. A very deficient ration will affect the analysis slightly, but moderate variations do not affect it. The relative content of eggs is affected materially by the character of the ration.

Found Shot to Death

Chicago, July 27 (AP).—Christian D. Blum, newspaperman and former war correspondent, was found shot to death, apparently by his own act, in the Commonwealth Hotel today. A bullet from a rifle wound nearly had entered the body near the heart.

Blum had been an inmate for several years and had written a column of radio comment for the Chicago Herald and Examiner. He was born in Detroit, Mich., July 24, 1874.

Head Dry Agent Shot to Death

Hagerstown, Md., July 27 (AP).—Ambushed by moonshiners last night, R. Stoler, 52, of Keyers, West Va., head of the dry agents in Washington, Maryland and Garrett counties, Maryland, was shot to death. His companion, R. E. Walter of Hagerstown, another dry investigator, escaped and notified authorities here. A posse is hunting for the murderers, who fired from a densely wooded section near Boonsboro, while the agents were passing.

Local Death Record

The funeral of Chauncey J. Conner of Kripplush, who died at the Kingston City Hospital Saturday, was held from his late residence Tuesday afternoon, with interment in Fairview Cemetery.

The funeral of Dr. William E. Little was privately held Tuesday evening at the chapel of A. Carr & Son on Pearl street. The Rev. James Cameron of Rosendale officiated. Today the remains were taken to Union City, N. J., for cremation.

Mrs. H. Seebeck of Allaben died Monday at the Benedictine Hospital. She had been ill a long time. Mrs. Seebeck was a resident of Allaben a few years ago and her friends were all sorry to hear of her death. Her body was taken to Brooklyn today for burial. She is survived by one son, Herbert Seebeck, of Phenicia, and one daughter, Helen.

The funeral of William Forde, who died Tuesday, will be held privately. Friends wishing to view the remains may do so this evening between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock at the late residence, No. 202 Greenkill avenue. Thursday morning at 11:15 o'clock the members of Round Lodge, No. 343, F. & A. M., will meet at the main entrance to Wiltwyck Cemetery for the purpose of holding a Masonic funeral service at the grave. All Master Masons are invited to attend. Mr. Forde for many years was an active and loyal member of the Masonic fraternity.

Joseph Heckel died Tuesday night at his home after a long illness. He is survived by five daughters, Mrs. William Whitmore, Mrs. Daniel Lane and Mrs. Bernard F. Hollman, all of this city; Mrs. John Schick of Philadelphia and Mrs. Clark Veb of Albany; one son, Joseph Heckel of this city, and three sisters, Mrs. Catherine Leedecker of Port Jervis, Mrs. John Vogt of Shohola, Penn., and Mrs. Edward Ruff of New York city. He was a member of St. Peter's Church. Funeral from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Hollman, No. 168 O'Neil street, on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Peter's Church at 9:30 when a high Mass of requiem will be celebrated for the repose of his soul. Interment in St. Peter's cemetery.

The funeral of George F. Roberts was held from the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Roberts, 31 Lindsay avenue, Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. The services were under the direction of the American Legion with the chaplain, the Rev. G. L. Withey, in charge. The funeral cortege was large and beautiful, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The pall bearers, all members of the American Legion, were Eugene B. Carey, C. J. Heislman, G. W. Potter, James H. Betts, Lester Wolff and Walter Carver. The firing squad under the command of Charles T. Dixon was composed of George Plathaber, Robert Isenman, A. J. Murphy, Ellsworth Mack and Roy G. Jacobs. The color bearers were George Davis and the color guards were Joseph De Cicco and Robert Jones. Interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery where the American Legion committee services were conducted by Chaplain Withey. As the body was being lowered in the grave the taps were sounded by Walter Carver.

Louise Arzulla Sully, widow of Daniel Sully, the well known actor, who died suddenly Tuesday morning at his home, the Old Mill Stream Farm, at Lake Hill, town of Woodstock, following a stroke which she suffered Monday night, was well known on the stage before and after her marriage to Mr. Sully. Mrs. Sully was seventy-two years old on June 10. Although suffering from high blood pressure for several years, she was apparently in splendid health. At an early age she entered upon a stage career. She retired from the stage upon her marriage to John Kirwin of the New York city post office department. He died several months after marriage and she returned to the stage, where she met Mr. Sully, who was then at the height of his career. They purchased an extensive farm and mill property at Lake Hill which became known as the Old Mill Stream Farm and which Mr. Sully used at the scene for some of his elaborate plays. They entertained many residents of Ulster county as well as theatrical folk there and Mr. Sully wrote many of his plays there, including "The Corner Grocery," "The Farish Priest," "Tuddy Nolan" and "Washington, D. C." in all of which Mrs. Sully starred. Following Mr. Sully's death, she married Tony Denier, who was famous as a circus clown. He died several years later. After his death she embraced the Catholic faith and largely through her efforts the Church of St. John of Arc was built a few years ago. She is survived by two brothers, Washington J. and William Tasker Sully, and by a number of nieces. The funeral will take place from her late residence on Thursday at 2 p. m. with interment in the Woodstock cemetery. The service here will be at her home instead of the church because the latter is undergoing repairs.

Shake-Up Ahead For Dry Agents

Washington, July 27 (AP).—Several prohibition enforcement agents in the Buffalo and New York offices either will be removed within a few weeks or notified that their resignations are acceptable. It was announced today at the treasury, in an effort to clear up "the two most disturbing situations" in the country. Maurice Campbell, administrator at New York, and Andrew McCampbell, administrator at Buffalo, are understood here to be preparing reports with recommendations and it was said at the prohibition bureau that action would be taken in accordance with their requests.

MRS. McPHERSON HAS NO CONFESSION TO MAKE

Los Angeles, July 27 (AP).—Aimee Semple McPherson, auburn-haired storm center of Angelus Temple, has no confession to make regarding her story that she was kidnapped last summer and whisked away into Mexico while her congregation mourned her as drowned.

Rejecting the demand of the Rev. Gladwyn N. Nichols, former choir leader of the temple who with 289 of its members seceded last fall and organized an independent church, that she "confess to the world" what happened during her mysterious absence a year ago, the comely religious leader stuck to her story.

Nichols publicly asked Mrs. McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, to "make a clean breast of the whole affair for the good of their souls and the peace of their consciences."

To which Mrs. McPherson replied: "I am not surprised. The Rev. Nichols and his church need the advertising. Very clever but uncharitable. After all these months of silence, it seems strange that Nichols should take such a sudden concern in my conscience. Isn't it revealing that this urge came at the moment when my name is in the headlines every day."

"I have no confession to make whatever. I told the truth and walked in the light."

Third Art Show At Woodstock

By F. Gardner Clough.

The third exhibition of paintings, etchings, lithographs, sculpture and craft work opened at the Woodstock Gallery on July 23, and will remain open until after August 10, allowing the public ample time to view the general display of art entered by the Woodstock artists for the mid-summer show.

For those who enjoy conservative work, work that does not baffle by its bombast and curiously flagrant color and composition and subject, this third show does have interesting pieces. From a purely artistic viewpoint, it seems doubtful whether any exhibitor in the show can surpass Carl Walters, whose pottery is on display in the gallery. He not only produces from his Mayerlekin pieces that have a twofold value,—utility and artistry,—but he goes further at this time and shows several pieces that deserve round applause for their originality of conception and skillfulness of manufacture. His "Pottery Penguin" and "Pottery Dog" are worth seeing, worth owning, worth admiring. One could hardly give more praise to an artist and his work. Walters is doing better and better work with each public showing.

Birge Harrison, honorary president of the Woodstock Association, shows a snow scene, a night scene, with the colored smoke of a railroad engine shooting into the sky and the tiny red of the coach and depot windows forming the only bright spots of color on the canvas. "West Hurley" is the title for a rather impressionistic landscape canvas by Arnold Blanch. It looks for all the world like tiny box houses stuck up on a play hill, yet forsooth, it is West Hurley sure enough, and you can recognize it, too! Other local subjects are "Vosburgh's Mill" by Reeves Brace, a modern painting which throws one's eyes down on the mill from a height scarcely ever achieved save by aviators, and giving further proof that artists do have tricks up their sleeves. Then there is the "Roundhouse" by Charles Rosen, one of the stronger modern artists at the colony, but a true, sincere, actual view of what one takes to be the Rondout turntable with the surrounding buildings and the railroad and engine all included. Rosen, too, seems to have been doing the Lindbergh, but he knows his roundhouse, you'll agree. There are wild flowers, still-life canvases with cultivated flowers, some of these canvases pretty, others not so pretty.

There is a newcomer, one B. Karfoll, who presents a "View," a landscape none too convincing. Hermon More has a landscape, heavy, in dark colors. In contrast is the landscape by Austin Mencklin that will appeal to those who like bright, colorful, detailed pictures. In oil this artist has painted trees with delicate, detailed, finely-pencilled limbs and branches. With all high-keyed colors he has gotten a great background, an almost perfect perspective; there are tiny cows, cows that look like cows! You should see this picture!! It will make you believe that artists can do detail work correctly, can draw well!

There are several pieces of sculpture of strong interest. Paul Rohland has done a likeness of John Carroll (artist) in plaster. Gaston Lechaise has modelled a portrait head of Jeanette Fiene that is a work of art. The texture of the hair, the finely chiselled features of the face, the finely finished silver and bronzed cast is one of the permanent features of the show. There is also a wood carving by Hannah Small. There is a red-stone "figure" carving by Myra M. Carr.

This exhibition also has a goodly number of drawings, etchings, lithographs and water colors. One section of the main gallery wall is given over to these pieces. There are "loaned" works, previously announced as "invited works" in this exhibit. Artists here included are Jules Pascal, Maurice Sterns, Leopold Levy, Mme. Lewitski and Charles Thorndike. Among the artists known whose work has not been singled out for special comment, but whose work will interest visitors are Henry Mattson, Judson Smith, C. E. Linden, Orville Peets, Mary D. Smith, G. Klitgaard, R. Tandler, E. Fiene, Eugene Speicher, Jo Canine, C. Speare and R. Wettlau.

This third exhibition includes a wide variety of work. There is less of rampant experiment and modernistic concept than there was in previous shows. The complete show evinces a serious, dignified and professional attitude on the part of the exhibiting artists, as if at last their local gallery was worth supporting, and as if they expected a public to follow the announcements by coming to the open doors during the open hours for the show, daily and Sundays until August 10.

3 NEW SERIES—AT NEW LOWER PRICES

Van Kleeck Motor and Garage, Inc.

S. J. Van Kleeck, Sales Mgr.

10 North Front Street, Kingston, N. Y.

The Three New Series of Nash motor cars, introduced thirty days ago, have won America.

It is their beauty, speed, lowered lines, attractive colors and, above all, their phenomenal new performance which have given so much added impetus to Nash sales. (July 58% greater than any July in Nash history; and production now reaching the unprecedented total of 700 to 800 cars daily.)

Praise for these finer, faster models of Nash is heard everywhere.

Those who have driven them will tell you that supreme riding luxury is accomplished by the new Nash super-springs of secret-process alloy-steel.

They will tell you the engines in these new cars are smoother and quieter than ever.

And they will also tell you that these are the easiest steering cars on earth!

It is the greatest motor car contrast in the world today to step out of your car, and then drive one of these great new models of Nash.

We want you to know that contrast. This is Nash "Come Drive" Week. Courtesy cars are waiting at our showroom for you to try.

All you need to do is step into the car, sit down behind its wheel, and drive it. No sales pressure. No obligation. Don't buy any car today, until you have driven a Nash!
